Equipping leasing companies for success.

For businesses in the equipment finance sector, the future is filled with uncertainty. Federal and state income tax requirements are in a constant state of flux. Upcoming changes in financial reporting rules will have a direct impact on the way leasing companies and their customers report their financial statements. Now, more than ever, access to the right strategic advice is essential to your company's success.

At Katz, Sapper & Miller, we have the specific industry expertise to help navigate the changing landscape of the equipment leasing industry. That is why the owners and CFOs of so many privately held leasing companies turn to the experienced, dedicated professionals at KSM for their tax, audit, and consulting needs.

But deep industry expertise only scratches the service. Clients also benefit from KSM's comprehensive knowledge in tax planning and financial management, our customized approach, and friendly, efficient service. Bottom line: Where other firms see challenges, we find solutions.
